Maka'ala
Be alert.

Bring your cell phone and a map. Take note of landmarks. Be aware. Ask questions. Check weather conditions.

Never swim alone. Always travel with a partner. Swim where there are lifeguards present. Be aware. Ask questions. Check weather and surf conditions.

Mālama 'āina
Take care of land.

Help us preserve our land for generations to come. Protect our native forests by decontaminating footwear. Take only pictures. What you pack in, you pack out.

Leave the beach looking better than when you arrived. What you pack in, you pack out.

Mālama kino
Take care of your body.

Prepare well for both sun and rain. Wear proper footwear. Bring snacks and water in a reusable bottle.

Prevent sunburn AND protect the ocean. Wear clothes with SPF protection. Apply and re-apply sunscreen often. Please note: Sunscreen containing the coral-harming chemicals oxybenzone and octinoxate are banned in Hawaii.

Aloha kai
Love the ocean.

What happens on land, effects the ocean. Enjoy drinks with reusable or paper straws when possible.

Take nothing but pictures, leave nothing but bubbles.
